FARMERS' COLUMN

THE FARM AND HOME

Falls from ladders, haymows, haystacks, and roofs cause many accidents. Ladders should be kept in a dry place, and the rungs inspected before use. Topping down from step-ladders results in many falls in homes.

To stop gullying, head erosion, or the growth of the gully up the slope, must be prevented. Several methods of doing this are described in Kentucky College of Agriculture Circular 304, called, "Soil Erosion and Its Control."

In using a basement for the storage of fruits and vegetables, placing boxes, barrels or other containers on slats an inch or so off the floor permits circulation of air. Wall shelves are desirable for canned goods.

Most women prefer electric irons with automatic heat regulators. Those not equipped with regulators may become hot enough to scorch clothing being ironed, or even set fire to board or other objects with which they come in contact.

Before storing clothing for the winter, examine and remove spots made by fruit juices, soft drinks, tea, coffee and the like. If left they become "set." They also attract moths, which thrive on soiled spots.

The poultry section at the Kentucky College of Agriculture says cheaper and cleaner eggs can be produced if the flock is confined until about 1 o'clock every day, and all day when the weather is bad.

WATCH YOUR LAND

If all farmers in Kentucky could be persuaded to watch carefully this winter the land on their farms and on others as the opportunity affords, they would be in an attitude of mind next spring to start the most effective program of soil improvement and conservation the state has ever known.

Some things that should be observed are: First of all, the difference in the amount, speed and color of water running off from land well covered with grass and land of similar slope that had corn, tobacco and other tilled crops on it although some of it may have a cover crop on it.

Second, the difference in erosion of tilled crop land with and without cover crops.

Third, the difference in the amount of erosion where the cover crop was drilled with the slope and drilled across the slope on the contour as nearly as possible.

THE F. F. A. EMBLEM

The emblem which you see above is made up of five symbols—the owl, the plow, and the rising sun, within the cross section of an ear of corn which is surmounted by the American Eagle. Upon the face of the emblem also appear the words "Vocational Agriculture, and the letters "F. F. A."

The owl is symbolic of wisdom and knowledge; the plow is the symbol of labor and tillage of the soil; the rising sun is emblematic of progress and the new day that will dawn when all farmers are the product of vocational agriculture school and have learned to co-operate; the cross section of an ear of corn is indicative of the national scope of the organization, as is also the American eagle. "The emblem is protected by copyright."

More information of our organization will be furnished in other issues. ROY NICKELL, Advisor M. C. H. S. Chapter, Future Farmers of America.

FARM ENEMY No. 1. THE RODENT

In the preceding article, we spoke of the wanton destruction of wild life since white men came to Kentucky, of the wiping out of the buffalo, elk, deer, panther, wolf, beaver, passenger-pigeon, wood-duck, wild-turkey, grouse and others, as also of many varieties of fish; of the great depletion, in the past twenty years, of the smaller furbearers, and mousing hawks and owls, through over trapping, and the tragic loss, through indifference, of fifty percent of our birds. We mentioned also the warnings of biologists that the very existence of the farm business is now threatened by two powerful enemies the rodents and the insects, no longer held in check by their natural destroyers.

Take first the rodents. Government Bulletin 725, on "The House Rat, Most Destructive Animal in the World," after saying that there were no native rats in America, and that, as carrier of fatal diseases, the rat Fourth, the difference in erosion on bare land cultivated with the slope instead of on the contour.

Fifth, the vast acreage without any cover crop.

Sixth, the acreage on which cover crops were sown and made such poor growth that they did not effectively prevent erosion, because the soil was so depleted it would not nourish the crop.

Seventh, after these observations, then look at lands that were once badly exhausted and have been restored through the use of lime, phosphate and legumes and the use of farm manures.

After such observations as these, those who are not sure of exactly how to proceed to improve their worn lands should call upon the county agent for information and obtain from the College of Agriculture at Lexington circulars on soil management, cover crops and engineering methods of erosion control. Even many gullied lands can be restored to a profitably productive condition, particularly for pastures.

greatly endangers human life, continues: "The economic loss due to rats is astounding. Of all people, the farmer has most reason for detesting the rat. The majority of farms present ideal conditions for it, as to food and shelter, wooden barn and cellar floors, old sheds, lumber and wood piles and stone fences, grains always accessible in field, shock, stack, granary and bin, eggs and toothsome young poultry always at hand, also abundant offerings from feed troughs. No wonder rats love the farm and stay on it. With abundant food, the rat breeds from six to ten times a year, and produces an average of ten to the litter. The possibilities of such reproduction are a menace to the human race. Without check, in a few years the rats of the world would consume all vegetable and animal products, and earth would soon become a lifeless waste."

The Bulletin continues: "Assuming that there are only as many rats as people in the United States, and that each rat in a year destroys only two dollars worth of products, the total yearly damage would be around $200,000,000, or the constant labor of 2000,000 men would be required to produce the materials eaten and destroyed. If half this loss were grain, it would take 5,000,000 acres to produce it." Of course we all know there are far more rats than people in the nation, and that these figures should be multiplied many times.

After mentioning ways of combatting the rat, poisons, traps, ferrets, terriers, (not the cat, which it says is "worthless as a rat-ter"), it continues: "The continuous warfare kept up by natural enemies is far more effective than the work hitherto accomplished by man. In recent years, however, the animals that prey upon rodents have become very scarce." Foremost among these, it names the weasel, skunk, mousing hawks and owls, saying, "All the weasels, hawks and owls in the country do not destroy one-sixth as much poultry as the common rat." Mice, of which we have eight kind in Kentucky, nesting under every shock and stack, in every crib, storage-place and building, also cause very great loss, as also does the ground squirrel.

The farmer has been strangely blind to the immense waste going on from rodents, accepting it just as a matter of course. He should take warning from conditions in sections of the West, where, through mistaken poisoning campaigns against the coyote, all the smaller furbearers, and the mousing hawks and owls, have been destroyed, and, in consequence, the rats, mice, ground-squirrels, gophers, prairie-dogs and jack rabbits have multiplied beyond control. LUCY FURMAN

THOUSANDS OF ACRES RUINED BY EROSION

At a recent planning conference, held to study conditions in parts of 14 counties in the Pennyryle region of southwestern Kentucky, it was brought out that 55,000 acres formerly considered high-type farming land is now washed beyond immediate redemption, and that 200,000 acres more, or about 20 percent of the area studied, have lost more than half of the top soil.

Cost of War

The World War, all told cost,—apart from thirty million lives—four hundred billion dollars. With that money we could have built a $2500 house, furnished it with $1000 worth of furniture, placed it on five acres of land worth $100 an acre, and given this home to each and every family in the United States, Canada, Australia, England, Wales, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany, and Russia. We could have given each city of 20,000 inhabitants and over, in each of the countries named, a five million dollar library and a ten million dollar university. Out of what was left we could have set aside a sum at five per cent that would provide a $1000 yearly salary for an army of 125,000 school teachers and a like salary for another army of 125,000 nurses. DYNAMIC AMERICA

HEY MOTORISTS! LISTEN!

THE OTHER FELLOW

By THE LITTLE ENGINEER

EVERY driver says sometime during his motoring career, "You may be the best driver in the world but you can never tell what the other fellow is going to do."

But every motorist forgets that with millions of drivers on the road he is "the other fellow" to all but himself.

It's a good rule to believe that the pilot of the car behind, or in back or at the side, will do every fool thing that can be done and to be prepared for it.

But to add to that it is a splendid idea to so conduct your own driving with relation to the thousands of "other fellows" using the same highways that nobody can say that "other fellow" is an idiot and mean you.

When George Westinghouse, inventor of the air brake, tried to interest Cornelius Vanderbilt, president of the New York Central Railroad, in the device, Vanderbilt returned the letter with the message: "I have no time to waste on fools!" PETTER SCHOOLS THE OBJECT TO THE CITIZENS OF MORGAN COUNTY

As the committee sponsoring the election of J. V. Henry, Rollie Wilson, and G. W. Barber, we wish to thank those that voted for these men, and to say that had they been elected that Gabel Burton who was partially educated in the Masonic Orphans Home of Kentucky would have been named as your Superintendent for the next four years, that our campaign was made for the purpose of promoting a better school government in Morgan County, and if any of the things that have come out in this campaign help the men that are in to better serve you than the campaign was not in vain.

To those that voted for the other side we know that you had good reason to do so, and we do not question your action in so doing, and there is no hard feelings toward any one.

Neither the committee or the candidates supporting the new deal (as it got to be called) made any rash promises for it was brought forth for the purpose of putting the best teacher possible in every school for his teaching ability rather than any political pull that he might have.

Respectfully submitted,
COMMITTEE FOR BETTER SCHOOLS.

THANK YOU, FRIENDS

To my friends:
I want to thank each and every one of you for your loyal support and kind consideration of me in the election for member of the board of education. I want to congratulate the winners and wish for them that they may make the best board of education that Morgan county has ever had.

I did my best and lost, and I hope that my friends who worked and voted for me will accept my loss in the same spirit you would have had I won. A good loser makes a good winner, and I ask you good citizens to support these three high class gentlemen who are our new members of the board of education.

Sincerely,

ROLLIE WILSON

Chapel Program

The West Liberty high school faculty and students enjoyed the chapel program presented by Rev. B. H. Kazee last Friday morning.

After the devotional, Rev. Kazee gave a talk on many humorous things which included how he learned to play the banjo and the things that they used to do at an old-fashioned square dance.

Rev. Kazee then played the piano and sang a variety of songs which included "The Wagoner's Lad," "Moo Cow, Moo," and "When Mother Wields the Shingle."

Senior French Club

The senior French club had its last meeting on Friday afternoon. The members sang French songs, and Delphia McClure gave a talk on the life of Joan of Arc. They then played a game called "Pig," and refreshments were served by Ella Ruth Childers and Martha Fannin.

"Did You Know That?"

Lavena Wells doesn't know the way to the agriculture room.

Wonder which Helen Jean Cox will decide to take, "a certain young man" or "anything she wants"?

Ask Martha Fannin what new experience she had Monday.

Lucile Nickell is going to have to rebait her hook or Lurlene Reed is going to catch her Fish.

If Sally Pelfrey can't get one high-way man she'll try to get another.

We can't understand why Delphia McClure suddenly took cold Sunday morning and couldn't sing at church.

Seems as tho some senior girls just can't keep from chewing gum. They even stay in after school just to get to keep it.

Wonder why Dwayne Bellamy didn't wait until Monday night to go to the show? There must have been some girl involved. You'd better look into that, Margaret.

HANEY EXPRESSES THANKS

Fellow Citizens and Friends:—

When a county official has tested the friendship of his entire county and by official ballot has found that the majority of that county has approved his past administration to such an extent that they are willing to endorse his continuance in that administration, he is grateful beyond expression and so it is today that my gratitude toward the citizens of Morgan county is too deep for words. You, the citizens of Morgan county, have shown to the fullest measure that your confidence in me as County Superintendent has not waned and that you are still willing to leave with me and my board members the educational activities of your county and I desire to assure you through the columns of the Courier that I shall not betray your trust. I shall so endeavor to direct the educational activities of your county that when my term of office expires you may feel that I have left a record that fully compensates for the hearty support you have given me. You are my friends, and in exchange for this honor you have conferred upon me, I offer my untiring service to the educational interests of Morgan county and like Lincoln of old, "With malice toward none" I shall again take up the educational interests of Morgan county pledging my undivided service to its welfare. In my simple yet appreciative way

I THANK YOU!

The How and Why of the National Unemployment Census

A nation-wide census of all unemployed and partially unemployed persons in the United States will be taken between the dates of November 16 to 20, by act of Congress, and at the direction of President Roosevelt.

Here, in question-and-answer form, is the information you need to know about this plan.

- 1. WHAT IS PURPOSE OF THE UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS?
To get an accurate count of the unemployed and partly unemployed.
- 2. TO WHOM WILL CARDS BE SENT?
To every family in the United States.
- 3. UNDER WHOSE AUSPICES IS THE CENSUS BEING TAKEN?
Congress has decreed, and the President has directed, that it be taken.
- 4. IS THE CENSUS COMPULSORY?
No. But every unemployed or partly unemployed person is urgently requested to cooperate.
- 5. HOW WILL THE CENSUS BE CONDUCTED?
Through the facilities of the Post Office Department. Report Cards will be delivered to every family. Cards are to be returned by mail to Washington for tabulation and analysis.
- 6. WHEN WILL THE CENSUS BE TAKEN?
Cards will be delivered on November 16 and must be returned by MIDNIGHT NOVEMBER 20. They are already addressed and no postage is required.
- 7. WHO SHOULD FILL AND RETURN CARDS?
Every person who is unemployed or partly unemployed who is able to work and wants work.
- 8. WHAT AGE LIMITS APPLY?
There are no age limits except existing State regulations concerning workers' ages.
- 9. SHOULD MORE THAN ONE UNEMPLOYED PERSON IN A FAMILY RETURN A CARD?
Yes. Every unemployed member of a family should fill out and return a card, if able to work and seeking work.
- 10. WHERE MAY ADDITIONAL CARDS BE OBTAINED?
At any post office or from your postman.
- 11. WHERE CAN INFORMATION BE SECURED IN FILLING OUT CARDS?
At your post office or from your postman.
- 12. IS THIS CENSUS CONFINED TO AMERICAN CITIZENS?
No. All permanent residents of the United States are included.
- 13. IS THE INFORMATION GIVEN ON THE CARDS TO BE CONSIDERED CONFIDENTIAL?
Yes. This information will be used for unemployment statistics only.
- 14. SHOULD EVERY QUESTION OF THE CENSUS CARD BE ANSWERED?
Yes. To obtain the most accurate information possible, the President asks that each question be answered. Numbers 9 and 10 are particularly important. However, failure to answer some of the questions will not invalidate the card.
- 15. WHO IS AN "UNEMPLOYED" PERSON?
A person of either sex or any color who is not working and is able to work and seeking work.
- 16. WHO IS A "PARTLY UNEMPLOYED" PERSON?
A person of either sex or any color with part-time employment who is able to do more work and is looking for more work.
- 17. ARE PERSONS ON EMERGENCY WORK PROJECTS INCLUDED?
Yes. They should register as unemployed. A specific question, Number 2c, is provided on the Report Card for all persons working on a W.P.A., N.Y.A., C.C.C., or other emergency work project which is supported by public funds.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

The White House
Washington

TO EVERY WORKER:

If you are unemployed or partly unemployed and are able to work and are seeking work, please fill out this report card right away and mail it before midnight, Saturday, November 20, 1937. No postage stamp is needed.

The Congress directed me to take this census. It is important to the unemployed and to everyone in this land that the census be complete, honest, and accurate. If you give me the facts, I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want work and do not now have it.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT
